The MarmalAshes Trophy

The Australian XI comprises eleven jars - plus the obligatory 12th jar - of the best marmalade from our Marmy Army of marmalade-makers around Australia in an adjunct to the England-Australia cricket Test series. This competition started after we disastrously lost the 2010-11 Ashes Tests. Buninyong (near Ballarat) decided we should save 'face' by challenging England to something else they claim – marmalade!

Each year the Australian XI competes against the England XI at the International Marmalade Awards in Cumbria (http://www.dalemainmarmaladeawards.co.uk/cms/festival/marmalashes.php)

Australia won for the first three years but has lost the last two! Hopefully this Australian XI can win back the MarmalAshes glory!
